

DEBATE INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM

Advocates and Opponents Hold Eight Hour Hear- ing in the House

FINAL ACTION TUESDAY

Final Action Upon the Proposed Amendment Was Set for Next Tuesday

CHICAGO MEMBERS PROTEST

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., MAY 6.—Advocates and opponents of the initiative and referendum had an eight hour hearing today before the house of representatives in committees of the whole. A break in the ranks of well known reformers who were supposed to be almost solid for the new method of legislation was noted when Charles H. Hamill of Chicago appeared and made a strong talk against the submission of the initiative amendment by the legislature. Mr. Hamill spoke in the absence of Lessing Rosenthal, who was detained by the serious illness of a daughter. Mr. Rosenthal is also counted among the forces of reform, being president of the Municipal Voters' League of Chicago.

Following the conclusion of the debate about 6:30 this evening, Chairman Charles Karch of the judiciary committee reported the initiative and referendum resolution which passed the senate to the house with the favorable recommendation of the committee.

Since the committee took summary action last Tuesday and reported out the resolution without waiting for the public hearing set for last Wednesday, Mr. Karch had failed to report in the resolution. Upon his motion final action upon the proposed amendment to the constitution was set for next Tuesday immediately after reading of the journal.

Affirmative Strong.

The affirmative made a strong showing with Samuel Alschuler of Aurora and Chicago, Fred J. Kern, president of the state board of administration, and Daniel Cruick of Chicago, all well known Democrats on the list of speakers.

Carl Vrooman of Bloomington and John H. Walker of the United Mine Workers also spoke for the measure. W. J. Butler of Springfield and Douglas Sutherland, secretary of the civic federation of Chicago, spoke on the negative.

The opponents of the measure insisted that the initiative and referendum resolution was certain to impair effective popular government of the representative type. Mr. Hamill cited numerous instances of operations in other states and in Switzerland.

tion in other states and in Switzerland in support of this contention. The friends of the resolution denied this charge. Members of the house took a lively part in the discussion. A very numerous assembly of speakers asking many questions of speakers on both sides. Mr. Butler cited experiences of history in the line of direct government. In closing the debate for the negative Mr. Sutherland declared that the proposal instead of being one of popular rule; was one for rule of, by and for interested minorities, instead of government by and for the people. He declared it was contrary to the ideals of popular government as expounded by Abraham Lincoln and this statement was sharply challenged by Daniel Cruice, who closed for the affirmative. Rep-

representatives King, Hull, Miller, Kleeman and Wilson questioned all the speakers for the affirmative sharply.

Cook County Members Protest.
The requirement that fifty per cent of the signatures on any petition must be secured outside of Cook county was made a particular target by Representative Miller and other Cook county members who protested against such discrimination against Cook county. Mr. Cruise admitted the validity of their contentions, but said he thought the measure should be passed with the limitation in it and amended later on. Miller pointed out that this would be practically impossible without great effort and delay.

The great value of the Illinois and Michigan canal and the possibility of the development of that waterway were emphasized at a meeting of the senate committee on canals and rivers, held tonight in the senate chamber. As a result of the meeting, Senator Glackin's bill, providing for the filling in of the canal and its conversion into an automobile speedway between Lockport and the city of Chicago, is dead and a movement may be started to make the canal one of the paving propositions.

Favor Anti Shipping Bill.
The house temperance committee voted favorably tonight on the anti-shipping bill and the bill which pro-

Representative Charles L. Wood tonight introduced a resolution providing that the house refuse to attend in a body the "prize-fight" entertainment to be given for the

FINDING A PLANET

The Discovery of Neptune and a Curious Coincidence.

A PROBLEM TWO MEN SOLVED

Unaware of Each Other's Efforts, John Couch Adams and Le Verrier Simultaneously Attained the Same End—A Wonderful Feat in Mathematics.

The discovery of the planet Neptune—that mighty world swinging in the great depths of space nearly 3,000,000,000 miles away from our own earth—was the cause of a singular controversy between two great astronomers, one English, the other French. This controversy raged for years in journals, papers, books and in learned societies. Here are the facts:

The distant planet Uranus had been discovered by Sir John Herschel on March 13, 1781. It is 1,781,680,000 miles from the sun.

When a new planet or comet is discovered mathematicians of the highest rank at once compute its orbit or path in space and publish its ephemeris, giving its exact position for the future.

A number of astronomers made ephemerides for Uranus; but, unlike the other planets, it kept "running off the track," always out a little further than computed. Again astronomers soon made new and accurate as possible tables, yet Uranus would not obey. Then they all knew that there was a world far and away beyond that by its attraction made the disturbance. None was free to begin the gigantic work of computing where it was, in what direction, its distance and its orbit.

John Couch Adams, a young mathematician in Cambridge, England, attacked this problem, the greatest yet undertaken by the human mind. Adams was aged twenty-four years when he began the memorable research. This was in 1843.

The labors of Hercules were surpassed by this intellectual giant, and in September, 1845, he sent his results to the Greenwich observatory. But they were not published to the world. In October he called at the observatory and left another paper giving full elements of the planet. And the astronomers of England did not search for the new world with their telescopes.

But meanwhile the great French astronomer, U. J. J. Le Verrier, older by several years than Adams, began a solution of the huge problem. He published his part one of researches on Nov. 10, 1845, and part two June 1, 1846. Adams and Le Verrier were not aware of their mutual labors.

On Sept. 1 Le Verrier, in France, not having a telescope, wrote to Dr. Galle in Berlin to look for the new planet. This letter was received in Berlin on Sept. 23, 1846. When night came on Dr. Galle turned the telescope at the designated point in space, and soon the eye of man saw the hitherto unknown world at the mighty distance of 2,789,331,000 miles from the sun, making one circuit in about 105 of our years.

The apparent angular diameter of the moon and sun is very nearly half of one degree, but Neptune was discovered within one degree of the computed position, or the average of both of these illustrious mathematicians.

The solution of this capital problem has ever been considered the highest achievement of pure mathematical astronomy. At once controversy began between France and England for honors. It was finally settled that both men were worthy of equal praise and exalted honors so long as men shall inhabit the earth.

It may be of interest to the reader—it was to me—to say that I heard the venerable and aged Professor Adams read a very abstruse mathematical paper in Philadelphia in the year 1887 before Section A of the American Association For the Advancement of Science. Every astronomer in the room gave close and respectful attention. Edgar Lucien Larkin in New York American.

A Town That Dates From the Flood.
Iconium, or Konia, as it is better known today, in Asia Minor, 300 miles east of Smyrna, held by some archaeologists to be the oldest city in the world, derived its name from the elkones, or images of mud, which, according to the ancient legend of the place, were made by Prometheus and Athena at the command of Jupiter, who, after the flood, caused the winds to blow upon the elkones and they became living men and women. Thus, according to this tradition, Iconium was the first place settled after the flood.

Better Service.

Vincent Bryan, the song writer, was breakfasting at 1 p. m. in a restaurant not many miles remote from Forty-second street and Broadway. A process server who wanted Bryan for a witness in a lawsuit slipped in and dropped a subpoena in his lap as he sat at the table.

"Ah," said Bryan, "the service here is improving." Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

Thoroughly Ventilated.

"What you need most," said the physician after he had examined the patient, "is plenty of ventilation."
"Gee, doctor," the sick man replied, "you must be mistaken. I've been operated on three times in the past year and a half."—Chicago Record Herald.

INITIAL BANQUET HELD BY BUSINESS COLLEGE CLUB

Splendid Menu Served at Peacock Inn and Program of Toasts and Musical Numbers Given.

The Jacksonville Business College club, which was organized the first of the year, composed of alumni and former students of the college, held their first banquet at the Peacock Inn Tuesday night which was a great success in every way. Following the banquet a splendid list of toasts was given with Prof. W. C. Springate as toastmaster.

When the club first started out there were less than fifty members, now it numbers over 150 and many things are being planned for the future of the organization.

The dinner was served at 9 o'clock and consisted of nine courses of splendid menu. Plates were laid for one hundred and fifteen, and the guest list included many from the vicinity of Jacksonville, also from Manchester, Winchester and Petersburg.

The program of toasts and musical numbers was well given and the enthusiasm was keen. C. D. Black, president of the club, called for order and introduced Prof. Springate, head of the local business college. The following was the program:

Piano duet—Faye Rodgers and Olive Smith.

"Woman Suffrage"—Flora Hall.

"Salesmanship"—Joseph Donovan.

After the program regrets were read from President Brown, who was called out of the city suddenly on business yesterday afternoon.

The gathering closed by all rising and singing "America."

The entertainment committee consisted of Pearl Piper, chairman; Mabel Waegoner, Georgia Bacon, Leonard Acree, Faye Rodgers and Bernice Clark.

COMPLIMENT DIRECTOR JEFFRIES.

That the efforts of C. C. Jeffries in Hutchinson, Kan., were appreciated by the people of that town, is evidenced in the tribute given by the Chamber of Commerce there, stating that Mr. Jeffries had measured up to all expectations, in fact had exceeded them, and that he held a warm place in the hearts of the citizens.

As was mentioned in Tuesday's issue of the Journal, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries and son Wilbur, returned to the city Monday morning from Hutchinson, making the trip from Kansas City via rail. They left Hutchinson May 1, in their automobile and arrived in Kansas City Saturday morning, covering a distance of 270 miles. Although it rained quite a little the rain did not retard their progress until they reached Kansas City as the roads to the place are of rock. It rained all day Saturday Saturday night and Sunday and they made the trip by rail. Until they get located they will be at the home of Mrs. H. J. Johnson on South East street.

Tuesday evening plans were completed for McCarthy's Arabs of Ilderim Temple, D. O. K. K., and the members of both the local lodges, Knights of Pythias, to go to Virginia this evening to take part in a parade and initiation to be held there.

Twelve automobiles have already been promised by local members and citizens to take the delegation from this city and Beardsville will also bring eleven automobiles and a band to Virginia. Chanderville is to send a large delegation and the event promises to be one of the largest in the history of the Virginia lodge.

The local members who have promised cars are Carl Hook, John J. Reeve, E. Stout, Arthur Zeigler, William Ricks, W. S. Babb, Judge E. P. Brockhouse and Charles E. Williamson, and those outside the order to donate automobiles are Thomas Harber, David Estaque, L. P. O'Donnell and George Wolke. Any others who wish to furnish a car may do so by notifying either L. B. Turner or Luther E. Smith.

The local delegation will meet at Castle hall this evening and will start from this city at 6:30 o'clock. The members of the drill team will don their uniforms here and the parade in Virginia will wait until they arrive. Upon their arrival the local men will line-up in the parade and directly after the pageant McCarthy's Arabs will give their famous drill on the streets. After the drill they will go to the Knights of Pythias hall where the three K. of P. degrees will be given to a class of candidates. The first degree will be conferred by the Beardsville lodge, the second by Jacksonville and the third by Chanderville.

BROKEN JOURNAL CAUSES LONG DELAY OF ALTON TRAIT

Jacksonville Accommodation Halted Two Miles North of Carrollton by Accident.

Passengers on the Jacksonville Accommodation, of the Chicago and Alton, No. 30, which is due in this city at 9:15, feel that they had a narrow escape Tuesday night, when the journal of the engine tender broke, causing the train to halt for more than six hours out of Carrollton. The train ran nearly a quarter of a mile after the break before the cause was detected. The engine did not leave the tracks and the passengers were not aware, until after it was all over, that at any moment the entire train might have been hurled from the rails as a good rate of speed was being maintained.

The accident happened two miles north of Carrollton. A wrecker was sent down from north of Carrollton. A wrecker from Roodhouse, also an engine and coach to which the passengers were transferred, and brought to Jacksonville, after several hours delay. E. C. Carpenter of this city is conductor of the train.

WILL ATTEMPT TO WRITE BRANCHES OF PRESBYTERIAN.
Chicago, May 6.—When the assemblies of the three branches of the Presbyterian church met at Atlanta next week a proposal will be made in each assembly that they unite in an expression of the broad general beliefs which are common to all of them.

The form of the proposal was drafted by the Rev. W. S. Plummer Bryan of this city, who made it public to day and who stated that he has received many assurances of support from influential members of each of the three assemblies.

A formal expression of the beliefs which are common to the branches of the church is Mr. Bryan's opinion, will provide evidence to the public that the points on which churches are more numerous and more vital than those on which they differ.

DR. STEINER BRINGS ARTISTS' COURSE TO SUCCESSFUL CLOSE

Iowa College Professor Heard in Address on Immigration and Its Problems at Music Hall.

A large and well pleased audience listened Tuesday evening to an address by one of America's most prominent social investigators, Dr. Edward Steiner, of Iowa college of Grinnell, Ia. Dr. Steiner has conducted sociological investigations in all parts of the world and has written a number of books on immigration and allied subjects, among the better known of which are "On the Trail of the Immigrant," and "The Immigrant Tide." In his lecture Tuesday evening "The New Immigrant and the New Problems," he scored the unreasoning prejudice which sees no goods in the Oriental or European who comes to our shores. He showed that the immigrant is a needed factor in our economic development and discussed especially the questions arising from the present anti-Japanese feeling in California. Although scientific of presentation and logical arrangement, the lecture was sprinkled with sufficient humor to remove it from any suggestion of dryness.

More Desirable Than Millionaire.

Dr. Steiner said that the immigrant, the sub-stratum of our society is more desirable than many of our millionaire class. They are far from being the "scum of society." They fit into a well defined niche in the social system, they do a necessary work, a work that native born Americans refuse to do. It behooves us to take a more charitable attitude toward them, to realize that they are more of a benefit to the United States than a hindrance.

The speaker told of some of his experiences while investigating social conditions, and corrected several popular misconceptions regarding the immigrant. Three thousand immigrants who landed one day at Ellis Island he said were 94 per cent between the ages of 14 and 32, were coming to work for us in the prime of life. Although immigrants do send some money back home, the amounts thus leaving this country do not compare with the immense sums squandered in Europe by spendthrift Americans.

Talks of California Trouble.

Dr. Steiner spoke with especial authority on the California trouble as he has been recently on the ground, having addressed the California legislature during the recent investigations. He thinks the anti-Japanese feeling in California the result more of a mistaken point of view than of an actual danger. Only ten thousand acres of the twenty-eight million in the state are owned by the yellow men. Only a small part of the Japanese inhabitants own land at all. The number of orientals coming to the coast seldom exceeds one per cent of the total number of immigrants.

FEDERAL JURY TO TRY JACK JOHNSON MAY BE COMPLETED TODAY

Belle Schreiber, the Government's Chief Witness Against the Pugilist, is Expected to Be Placed on Stand Today.

Chicago, May 6.—The federal jury to try Jack Johnson, the negro heavy weight pugilist champion prize fighter, on an indictment charging violation of the white slave act probably will be completed before noon tomorrow.

It is expected that Belle Schreiber, the government's chief witness against Johnson will be put on the stand at once. Department of justice agents are concerned over the absence of "Yank" Kenney, a white prize-fighter and former training camp assistant to Johnson. Kenney appeared before the grand jury and testified against the negro, but failed yesterday and to day to respond to a subpoena issued for his attendance at the trial.

Johnson is accused of having brought Belle Schreiber from Pittsburgh to Chicago October 15, 1910.

Master Paul Winston Walker of Lincoln, a nephew of Miss Weaver of the Woman's college is here. He is the acceptor bearer of the queen's party in the May fete to be held this evening.

RASMUSSEN GREENLAND EXPEDITION SUCCESSFUL

Copenhagen, May 6.—A message from horshavn, Faroe Islands, announces the success of the Knude Rasmussen Greenland expedition, which returned there yesterday after a three years absence. At Paryland the Danish explorer found large numbers of seal and musk-oxen which provided ample supplies.

Game was abundant in that section and the party had for a month before starting on the return journey over six hundred miles, which was covered at an average rate of 31 miles a day. Rasmussen depended entirely on his Eskimo outfit and took with him no tinned provisions.

PHYSICIANS CONVENE IN WASHINGTON

Washington, May 6.—The ninth triennial congress of American Physicians and Surgeons began its sessions here today, the meetings being presided over by Colonel William O. Gorgas, the United States army surgeon, who made the canal zone inhabitable. At the same time the fourteen component bodies of the congress began sessions at which many technical papers on subjects of great interest to the profession were read.

ENTERTAIN CHINESE.

Pekin, May 6.—The American charge d'affaires, Edward T. Williams, entertained tonight four hundred Chinese and Americans in connection with the recognition by the American government of the Chinese republic. A Magnificent Feature!

IN THE DAY OF WAR

A Patheplay of the great struggle between the North and the South. The greatest interest in all histories is the personal experiences of some of those concerned. Here we have the great tragedy of the civil war, while through it like a beam of light there threads a story of such poignant interest that the spectator is transferred instantly from the present humdrum of life to the thrilling, pulsating, gripping sequence of events in the lives of two families, bound by love and divided by war, around whom this corking story is built.

A Great War Drama,

with a strong plot, wonderfully acted, and depicting scenes of battle of awe-inspiring grandeur and sensationalism. It is the greatest feature in the world, selected for quality, and has unquestionably proven its great popularity with the public.

C. P. & ST. L. TO HAVE FOUR NEW MOTOR CARS

Railroad Will Try New Service in Short Time—Test Made by President Ramsey.

Within the next few days four new gas-electric motor cars will be placed in service on the C. P. & St. L. railroad. Just what schedule will be maintained by the cars and on what divisions of the road they will be operated is undecided as yet, according to E. A. Williams, of St. Louis, general passenger agent.

Two of the cars were delivered to the C. P. & St. L. officials Monday and one of the two was tested yesterday afternoon by President J. P. Ramsey of the road and a party of officials. A trip was made to Havana and return and the car pulled Mr. Ramsey's private car as a trailer.

Cars Latest Design.
The new cars are the latest design of the gas-electric line of construction. They were built by the General Electric company of Erie, Pa. Handsomely fitted and equipped with the latest modern appliances, they will greatly enhance the rolling stock of the C. P. & St. L. The gasoline engine operates the dynamo, that generates the electricity that furnishes the power for the operation of the car. The engine is located in the front part of the car in a separate compartment and directly behind it is the baggage compartment. The smoking room is at the rear of the passenger compartment, backed by a spacious room for the convenience of passengers generally. The seats in the car are broad and comfortable. There is in the car a seating capacity for ninety people. The cars are seventy feet and six inches long, longer than the average day coach of a steam railway.

Have Two Separate Engines.
The car has two separate engines, one for furnishing power for the car, the other for furnishing the electricity for illumination. The cars are heated by a hot water plant, manufactured by the Baker company. There are two toilet rooms in each of the cars.

The feature of the new equipment is that the cars are constructed of steel. They are in appearance something like the steel passenger coaches of the new Illinois Central train.

CLEAN UP.

Everybody cleans house in the spring. Why not clean up the yards and the alleys adjacent to your property. Jacksonville will have several conventions here within the next few weeks. The city is doing its part in the work of cleaning up. Why not help us. Every city in the state at the present time has a house cleaning week. Jacksonville should have one. I therefore set aside the week of May 5 for a general house cleaning and would ask all citizens to take part in it and make it a success. The department of streets and public improvements will furnish teams to haul away your refuse if it is placed in a convenient place and a notification sent to O. H. Spaulding, superintendent of streets.
George W. Davis, Mayor.

FACTORY INSPECTORS MEET.
Chicago, May 6.—Members of the International Association of Factory Inspectors, together with numerous representatives of capital and organized labor, met in this city today at the opening of the association's annual convention. Many subjects pertaining to the health, safety and welfare of factory operatives are scheduled for consideration during the four days' session. John S. Whalen, deputy state commissioner of labor on New York, is presiding.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC.

Arrangements for next year's artists course for the college are already well under way, and although all the numbers for the course have not been definitely settled as yet, there is little doubt but that the attractions next year will prove as high grade, or better, than those heard in this year's series. The handsome surplus from the sale of tickets for the present season enables the committee to expend even more for talent than was the case last year, and the prospects are for an exceedingly interesting list of attractions.

"The Hall of Fame," comprising the collection of autographed photos of artists who have appeared in Music hall, have received a splendid addition recently in a signed photograph from Mrs. Theodore Sturkowsky. This eminent pianist will be recalled by many of the artists who appeared in a joint recital in Music hall with Miss Cleary, reader, playing on that occasion such a delightful program.

Miss Louise Miller of the faculty of music gave a voice number at the recent declamatory contest held by the different high schools in the opera house last Friday. Miss Miller sang on this occasion "The Carmena Waltz Song." She was accompanied by Miss Mary Shastid.

At the session of the Mothers' congress on Wednesday evening of this week at the State Street Presbyterian church, Director and Associate Director Swarthout will present the Sonata in F major, for violin and piano, from Grieg. Miss Louise Miller will be heard in a group of songs on the same program.

The piano recital on Thursday afternoon of last week, given by the pupils from the classes of Miss Lulu D. Hay, was well attended. The students appearing on the program acquitted themselves in splendid style, and all showed a distinct progress in their work.

The faculty vespers concert, which was held in Music hall last Sunday afternoon, proved one of the most delightful musical programs heard in connection with the College of Music. An unusually large and appreciative audience was present. The program, as has been the case in previous vespers concerts, was made up chiefly of concerted numbers, in which many of the various possibilities for ensemble work, both vocal and instrumental, were demonstrated. It is the intention of Director and Associate Director Swarthout to give at least two of these vespers concerts each year, and doubtless those who have attended these Sunday afternoon recitals in the past will look forward with pleasure to the next program of this nature.

Miss Edna Murphy, who recently received a certificate from the College of Music as supervisor of public school music has just accepted a very desirable position in the public schools at Armour, S. D.

The orchestra for the May Day festivities, which will be held on the college campus Wednesday evening of this week, is rehearsing with the various drills. The student members of the orchestra will be assisted by several professional orchestra players from Mr. Harold Johnson's opera house orchestra.

MEMORIAL ALTAR UNVEILED.
New York, May 6.—A magnificent altar erected in St. Patrick's Cathedral in memory of Mrs. Ellen A. Dykers de Navarro was unveiled today with impressive ceremonies conducted in the presence of a throng of distinguished guests. The memorial cost $25,000 and was presented to the cathedral by Madame Navarro's two sons, Alfonso and Antonio, the last named of whom is the husband of Mary Anderson, the famous American actress.

MOTHERS CONGRESS WILL OPEN TODAY

PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR THREE DAYS' SESSION.

Speakers of Note Will Be Heard and Elaborate Plans Have Been Made For the Entertainment of the Guests.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Mothers' Congress, which commences today and will run through Friday evening. Sixty delegates are expected to be in attendance and most of them will arrive today. The Chicago delegates will arrive this afternoon in a special car over the Alton. A glance at the program assures those who attend of hearing some timely addresses and the list of speakers includes many of wide experience. Ample provisions have been made in the way of entertainment for the visitors, which has been previously mentioned in the Journal. Nine girls who hold ladies' educational society scholarships will put on a one act play in Beecher hall Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock for the benefit of the guests. The title of the play is "Miss Adams Makes a Suggestion," written by Mrs. Sherman Leavitt of this city, the play representing early meetings of the Ladies Educational society. The sessions will be held in State Street church and the first exercises will be this evening commencing at 8 o'clock, the principal address being by Mrs. Mary Boomer Page of Chicago.

The following is the program: Tonight's Session.

MISS WARFIELD TO WED POLISH COUNT.
Baltimore, May 6.—Cardinal Gibbons will perform the marriage ceremony for Miss Louise Warfield, daughter of former Governor Edwin Warfield, and Count Vladimir Ledochowski of Poland, which will take place tomorrow at the Warfield residence in this city. The day will be Governor Warfield's 65th birthday anniversary. On account of the recent death of Miss Warfield's grandmother the marriage will be a quiet one, to which only relatives and a few intimate friends have been invited. Within a few weeks after their marriage the couple will sail for Europe where they will live on count's estates in Poland.

A PRACTICAL COURSE FOR STUDENTS.

Some Reasons For Engaging in Poultry Keeping as an Occupation. Advantages: Only a small amount of capital is necessary if the poultry keeper is satisfied to begin with a few fowls and to develop the business gradually.

The investment of funds if properly made yields prompt and reasonable returns. For starting in the business a small area of land is sufficient and a location may be selected where the land is not high in price. Dressed fowls and eggs are favorite foods of the people and such are in constant demand at satisfactory prices.

The demand for poultry products is increasing because of the advancing prices of meats of all kinds and the gradual diminishing of the supplies of wild fowls and other game. Furthermore, new and special uses for poultry products especially eggs, are arising and extending. The products of poultry keeping are concentrated and valuable though perishable. They can stand considerable expense for prompt transportation in fresh condition to desirable customers. They are salable for cash. There is little if any waste.

Fowls utilize much of the waste of the household and farm and turn them quickly into products of value.

Poultry properly managed enrich and benefit the farm, garden and orchard. Poultry keeping may be advantageously combined with or added to other occupations.

The industry is a healthy one and yields to intelligent, interested, earnest labor a suitable return of profit and pleasure. Evidence. Some indication of the importance of poultry is found in quantities of dressed fowls and eggs for sale in stores, and markets of the cities and villages of the country. Modern methods of rapid transportation have revolutionized poultry keeping as an industry. Production is no longer limited by the local demand and there is no danger of a glut in the market. Poultry farming is a young industry as yet, and probably one half of the total production is consumed in the household of the producers.

Statistics. A few figures from the U. S. Census report of 1900 gives a more definite idea of the magnitude of the poultry interests in this country. The reported number of chickens, three months old and over on the farms and ranges of the U. S. June 1, 1900 was 233,598,085. The reported number of turkeys was 6,599,367.

The reported number of geese was 5,676,863. The reported number of ducks was 4,897,673.

Total Poultry 250,681,988. The total number of farms in the U. S. was 5,739,657. The number of farms which kept fowls was 5,096,252. Of all farms in the U. S. 88.8 per cent keep poultry. Total value of poultry in U. S. June 1, 1900, $85,794,996.

For the year 1899 the total value of poultry raised was 139,981,877. For 1899 the total value of eggs produced was 144,286,158.

Total annual poultry products of farms and ranges 284,268,035. The census report estimates the annual products from poultry not on the farms and ranges: Poultry raised 7,000,000. Eggs produced 7,000,000. Grand total annual poultry products 295,178,035. Our next bulletin of this course will be on the necessary characteristics of a successful poultry man. H. A. AVIATORS OBSERVE "LANGLEY DAY."

Washington, May 6.—In accordance with the custom inaugurated last year the Aero club of Washington today held its annual observance of Langley Day, the anniversary of the first flight of the late Prof. S. P. Langley's aeroplane at Widewater, Va., in 1896. The exercises of the day were held at the Smithsonian Institution, where a tablet in memory of Prof. Langley was unveiled. The program also included formal announcement of the annual award of the two copies of the Langley gold medal that has been established for the recognition of notable work in aid of aviation. The recipients this year were Glenn H. Curtiss, who has developed the hydro-aeroplane, and M. Gustave Eiffel, the famous French engineer and scientist, who has established an aero-dynamic laboratory of his own in Paris and has done more research work in aerial matters than any other man now living.

Thomas Simpkins residing in the Buckhorn neighborhood was in the city visiting Tuesday. It was the first time he has been in town since he fractured one of his ankles nine months since when he fell from a load of hay.

BOSTON DEFEATS PIRATES
IN TEN INNING BATTLE

Finish Was Sensational When Kirke
Brings Sweeney Home on a Double.

Boston, May 6.—With Wagner back in the game Pittsburgh was defeated by Boston today in a ten inning contest, the score being 3 to 2.
The finish was sensational. Sweeney led with a single in the tenth inning. Titus sacrificed and Kirke, batting for Mann, lifted a high one to left. Carey came tearing in for the fly and as he caught it bumped into the fence at the end of the bleachers, the ball falling over.
Sweeney came home with the winning run and Kirke was credited with a double.

QUICK RELIEF

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism.
She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began to use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by

ON THE SIDELINES.

The western clubs started their first series in the east. Rather a bad starter for the majority of them.
The St. Louis Cardinals from whom least might be expected were the only westerners to uphold the great sectional honor.

Hard luck for Hackett to lose that first game on the home grounds and after it seemed safely stowed away.
But you never can tell what's going to happen next in the game. Delave the winning pitcher, will no doubt stick with Springfield now. He was on the ragged edge for a time.

Rube Waddell has turned in his uniform to Manager Camillon and says he is through with the game forever. Thus passes one of the most eccentric characters the game ever knew. The others were Pete Browning, Orator Schaffer and Tim Hurst, about each of whom a volume might be written.

Johnson has pitched forty-two and two-third innings without being scored upon, which comes close to Doc White's record of fifty-six innings, made in 1904. The Senators will open in Chicago today and if the Kansas cyclone is sent in to pitch the Sox will make a desperate effort to be the first team to score on him this year, if not to hand him a beating. Following the Washington series, the Athletics come to the Sox park for four games and then comes Frank Chance with his tail-end aggregation. The fact that Frank is in last place will not prevent May 17th being the greatest day ever pulled off in the west, not excepting any of the world's series.
Every reserved seat in the park has been sold and it is expected that forty thousand people will be present when the game starts. The last of the eastern teams, Boston, will arrive May 19.

The most drastic punishment ever handed out to a player since the American league was established was passed upon Manager Stovall, of St. Louis yesterday by President Johnson. Stovall was deposed from his position as manager of the team. The trouble which drew this unprecedented punishment started in this way. In a game at St.
Louis Saturday with Cleveland, Umpire Ferguson called a strike on Stovall, who at once kicked so strenuously that the umpire ordered him out of the game. Leaving the field, Stovall snatched the umpire's cap and threw it on the ground.
Then securing his glove from the players' bench Stovall walked past the umpire and deliberately spat upon him. This conduct will no doubt cost him his job permanently unless the national commission takes a hand. At any rate it is probable that he will be out of the game a month or more. In the meantime the Browns are thoroughly demoralized and what promised to be a great team is headed for the bottom of the ladder. All because of a display of temper over a trifling occurrence.

Monmouth, which is leading the Central Association, has the poorest attendance so far. Ottumwa, Burlington, Kewanee and Monmouth appear to be the strongest of the teams, though Muscatine is to be reckoned with on account of the well known ability of Manager
Frank Doyle to turn out a winner.
Cedar Rapids and Keokuk appear to be doomed to finish around the foot of the ladder. Waterloo is on so so. The attendance so far has been a big improvement over last year.

The Decatur Review publishes a cut of old Tom Cooper, the colored ground keeper for the Commodores.
Tom was once a feature at the games in this city, way back in '92. He had a voice like a callopie in those days.

The Brooklyn-Chicago game was featured by the return of Hank O'Day to the place he so long and honorably adorned. The Dodgers

Fronts of Little Shops Gay With Red Lanterns—Describes Native Marriage Preparations.

The big string of wooden beads indicates a store where carving is done and so it is and some of it is really fine, while some more is hideous and we don't stop long to investigate.

What a gay street is kept by the dealer in toys, only most of them are so dimly they must soon be destroyed, but one thing seems certain, from the number of toy shops the Jap child don't lack for playthings and a few cents will enable their parents to supply a good sized family. The dolls and mechanical toys are fancy and attractive to the little ones, who are to enjoy them. Those clothes look quite natural and the caps are unseen, too, and we find we have again a dealer in modern goods but he seems to be out of place and has only a small stock. How reverently all step aside for that strange looking man. He is a priest and is going to the temple to officiate and that other strange looking man is another and they will go and sit cross legged and listen to the devout ones who come from far away places to say their prayers and quiet their conscience and at the same time have a visit to the city.

Look out for the cart with the big stick of timber fastened to it and drawn slowly along. It is a big and the animal must be a bull, but now, it is a big cow and she goes along demurely. I can't help mentioning the good condition nearly all these horned animals of burden are in and it is pleasant to see it. The cow moves along slowly, for her master seems to be in no hurry and she takes her time, as did the bulls hitched to the same sort of vehicles. This is the only cow I have seen thus hitched, though a good many bulls seem to be so used.

What was that which bumped against my back just now? I turn and see a child with a baby on her back and so anxious to see the Caucasian foreigners that she didn't notice what she was doing and I didn't mind it any, while her companions teased her not a little about it. And here comes along a good natured young man and in very broken accents asks me if I am an Englishman and I tell him I am an American and his face lights up, for there seems to be a warm spot in the hearts of these people for our land. And now get out of the way of that procession led by that sober visaged man with a sort of a banner. It is a lot of religious pilgrims from some neighborhood town some to see the sights of the city and incidentally to worship at some of the temples. They eye us curiously, but with the precision of veterans pass on.

And here is a map with a lot of round bundles done up in rice straw and we wonder what he has in them, till investigation shows they are filled with charcoal for sale. One would hardly suppose straw would do very well for such a purpose, but a careful Jap so skilled does up almost anything that way. And he is taking it to a store where they sell fuel and there we see some fagots, such as we used to read about when we were children. In this country nothing must go to waste, so they take the limbs of trees, cut them short and the them in bundles, and though the twigs are small they will help make a fire. Coal is used somewhat also, but that requires a stove, which is something rarely possessed in this land of charcoal and braziers.

What is the explanation of so many stores for the sale of all manner of goods and about which we see no men? It is this: The man of the family is probably away at his work and as a side issue the mother conducts a small store and earns few sen in that way and she is a good merchant, too, and makes for me takes. They generally have an eye to the main chance, though all will bear watching. I don't mean to say that they are dishonest, but our wealthy countrymen have so spoiled them that they look on all of us as legitimate prey whom it is no sin to cheat. I suppose they are excusable.

The fronts of the little shops are gay with red lanterns, which will make a fine show tonight, for the Japanese are fond of brilliant displays and are never happier than when dealing in bright colors. Are you hungry? There is a traveling restaurant in the shape of an old man who has a pole at each end of which is a box and in them suitable appliances for making a few articles warm and ready for use, and while I have not tried one of them, I have no doubt a native finds his wares palatable. There is a man jostling his way through the crowd and we can see him a long way off. He is a priest, whose garb is brilliant scarlet, but our guide can give no other particulars and I have not seen any one dressed like him yet.

A good many stores have in front of them a pole, on the top of which is a hoop adorned with bright red paper flowers and the effect we look down the street is quite pleasing, though somewhat gay. The poles, too, are wound like a barber pole and all are well adorned. What is that familiar odor? See, there is actually a bakery and they have in it for sale some goods that look like our own at home, but it isn't dinner time yet. There is a sign that makes one smile. A man want English speaking people to know that he sells handkerchiefs and so he adds to his native sign the words, "Handkerchiefs a special occupation," thinking no doubt that it will attract customers in good numbers.

What is all that commotion about in that little den along the wall? A man is vociferating, shouting and making a racket generally and the guide informs us the fellow is about to conduct an auction and the way he rattles off the special attractions of his wares is truly a caution and he has learned his trade well. He has a place only about ten or twelve feet square and a lot of stuff in it, but he makes as much racket about it as a man selling a thousand dollar stock of goods and perhaps he will make it go.

Here are some men who seem to be scavengers, for they have carts filled with a mass of rubbish, mostly old paper and the like, and they are evidently going to have it, too, for they are baling the scraps as we bale them at home, only all is more carefully preserved here, for they can afford to waste nothing. Even the refuse from the houses and closets is carefully preserved, for it must go to fertilize the land from which comes their subsistence and enrich the soil which produces for them so abundantly.

Getting tired? There is no end to the picture and I never tire of it, but possibly others don't look at it that way and remember, too, that this is a side street or a street in the older part of the city, where I like to go, for in the newer part are wide thoroughfares and somewhat modern stores, but these have few attractions for me, for if you don't care to go any farther we will hunt up a native restaurant and have dinner.

Here is one and we are courteously invited to remove our shoes and walk in. And here I want to say; for many years I have worn congress shoes that could be slipped on and off in a moment, but thought that on this journey I would depart from my usual custom and get a pair of more genteel laces and how many times I have regretted the decision, for these native restaurants have charms for me which I shall sorely miss when out of the country.

Our landlord here is a man of rather more than ordinary taste and has a home in the front part and the restaurant in the rear on the ground floor, and we walk to it, passing by or over a garden, such as all Japanese like to have just as soon as fortune smiles on them a little. It has a pool of water, in which fish are disporting, tiny trees are there, and while the, if in rectangular shape would not be more than fifteen or twenty feet square, it has all the peculiarities so thoroughly Japanese and which I have never seen imitated anywhere else.

Our guide ascertains the prices of the articles our host can furnish and we prepare for the meal, which we eat on the whole the most delicious we have yet enjoyed in this country and it will be hard for us to go back to the civilized way of cooking meat. I often wish we might take some lessons at home in this respect, for the matter is worth considering. The host has an interesting family of girls, five or six in number and ranging from 14 to 20 years in age, I should think and they look at us with considerable interest and it must be the father is well fixed, for the maid who waited on us was evidently not one of the family, but a hired servant.

Now, had that we have to run against human avarice so often. When we came to pay the bill the keeper tried to add about twenty per cent to the agreed prices and our guide had to go and figure the bill up with him and this occurred several times. However, we are not so glibly, I think as some others. There are many people in this world with more money than brains. I am often tempted to say, though it sounds rather harsh. The Hamburg-American line of steamers make a specialty of world wide tours when a steamer sails over a given course, making stops at certain places of interest and people who like to go in a large company see little and pay big, take passage and the list is generally large. The steamer of this kind of a company just preceded us to Yokohama and residents told us that prices, especially of curios, would at once advance a hundred per cent as long as the steamer was in port, but it remained for a gentleman of this city to tell the biggest story of all.

He said his wife was looking at an article she much thought of buying and for which the dealer asked her the equivalent of $50, but she held off, feeling he was charging her too much and she thought she would get it for 25 per cent less. She waited until the excursion steamer was gone and then went to the store to see what she could do, when the dealer told her he had sold the article to one of the swell tourists for $200 and he had offered it to her for $50, which she felt was too much.

A Long Ride. I said something once to a gentleman here about the way I felt when being pulled through the rain in a jinrikisha, but he related an experience which left mine in the shade. He said with only one man and such a vehicle he traveled one winter day when there was much snow on the ground over a mountain 45 miles in a little more than eleven hours. Coming up the mountain he had a cow to help pull the jinrikisha and a woman went along barefooted in the snow to bring the cow back, so I thought mine was hardly the worst experience after all, but I had no intention of going to get back the extra money I paid the man.

Our Tokyo Host. I am so sorry I forgot to mention in my letter from Tokyo the name of the man with whom we stayed. He was Mr. S. Sakurai, 31 Nichome, Fujimicho, Kojimachi-ku, Tokyo. If one wants to read these lines and wants to find a first rate place with moderate charges, a perfect gentleman for a host and one who may act for guide as he acted for us, he cannot do better than the residence of Mr. Sakurai, unless he desires lots of style and a much larger price.

There is a queer custom in this country regarding names. Mr. Sakurai and his brother, who lives with him, were unable physically to bear arms and consequently had to put up with different names from the one borne by their father. One brother was named Odaker.

About Marriage. We met one day some marriage preparations, gaily decorated carts on their way to the ceremony. In this country a man must be at least 17 and the girl 15 before they may wed. There are no difficult restrictions, but after the ceremony they must report the fact to the registrar to legalize the ceremony. A man takes his wife to his father's house to live and the families are supposed to get along and generally they do until they become too numerous for the place and then some emigrate. The friends of the contracting parties have much to say in the matter and when all is agreed upon the bride sends her husband-to-be a suit of clothes, and he sends her a sash, incense, sea weed, fish, hemp and other articles of good omen. Certain days are considered unlucky for the ceremony and are avoided if possible. Just before the ceremony the bride sends to her husband's home her trousseau and household goods she has accumulated, paying a good fee to the bearers. The morning of the ceremony she is carefully arrayed, hair done up carefully and she goes to her husband's home, where the ceremony takes place. The ceremony takes place in a room decorated for the purpose with bamboo, pine and plum blossoms, which in this country stand for conjugal happiness. Before entering the room she puts on a veil made of silk, in a peculiar manner, resembling a hood and which partly conceals her face and is awaited by a small party consisting of the bridegroom and his parents, the parents of the bride, the go-betweens and their wives and two small boys who act as cup bearers, twelve persons in all forming the party, and no others being admitted. The bride and groom sit opposite each other and between them is a small table of unpainted wood a foot square and 18 inches high. On the table are three bowls of different sizes, one on top of the other, made of red liquor and intended for saki, a kind of native drink.

No words are spoken and no vows of any kind made. There is an exchange of the cups three times. The bride and groom thus exchange cups till three times three they have drunk and the saki is exhausted and they signify they are partners for life, for joy or sorrow, weal or woe, better or worse. They then arise, the bride removes her veil, saki is given the others in the room and the ceremony is at an end and the other guests are then permitted to join in the wedding festivities, which are a part of the program.

Divorce is rather easy and I regret to say polygamy is far too common in the country, as I am informed. Even the emperor who died last year was not guiltless in this respect, for he had children by several different women and the empress herself was childless, though a woman of many noble traits of character. The present emperor is setting a good example in this respect and has only one wife in name and in fact.

Only members of certain princely families may furnish wives for the emperors and that rule is rigidly adhered to. Generally marriage is a matter of business arranged by go-betweens, though not always. The late Count Ito, who was such a great man, was in his earlier days hated for the very things he advocated for the good of his country. One day he was being pursued by a gang of men intent on taking his life, and he rushed into a tea house, where he was acquainted and begged the daughter of the proprietor to place a call at a brazier filled with charcoal and when the pursuers arrived she bade them search the house all they pleased, which they did, but in vain. For her fidelity the girl afterwards became Countess Ito, wife of the Bismarck of Japan.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK.

Keep your place, walks, gutters clean, and your neighbor will do likewise. You'll shame him to it.

Make your home a pretty place to live in and your garden a pleasure to look at by planting flowers, bushes and shrubs.

Ash heaps have no right in lanes, yards or alleyways. Report these to the committee or see they are removed yourself.

You can tear down those old sheds and fences that have served their time and use them for kindling.

Eight hours' work will go a long way toward putting your place in shape. Start today and put in two hours.

Take out old stumps, dead shrubs and limbs and either burn them or have them carted away.

Only on your regular garbage day will your refuse be carted away. See that you have it out on time.

These suggestions will mean death to dirt, disease germs and things unsightly if everybody helps.

Do it for Jacksonville.

How to Avoid These Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers. There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful, penetrating remedy to banish all these dreaded experiences. It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then need some prospective mother to whom a word of time about Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to Mother's Friend, 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book. There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

HANDS BURNING ITCHING, DISFIGURED

Cracked and Swollen. Could Not Sleep. For 2 Years Nobody Could Cure His Eczema. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

905 Lowell Place, Chicago, Ill.—"The trouble began by my hands burning and itching and I rubbed and scratched them till one day I saw little red sores coming out. My hands were disfigured and swollen, and troubled me so that I could not sleep. They were cracked and when the small sores broke a white matter would come out. I could not do any hard work; if I did the sores would come out worse. "For two years nobody could cure my eczema, until one day I thought I would try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used warm water with the Cuticura Soap and after that I put the Cuticura Ointment on my hands twice a day for about five or six months when I was completely cured." (Signed) Sam Marcus, Nov. 28, 1911. Not only are Cuticura Soap and Ointment most valuable in the treatment of eczemas and other distressing eruptions of skin and scalp, but so other conditions do so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough skin, itching, scaly scalp, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, chapped hands and shapeless nails, nor do it so economically. A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

MARKET LETTERS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, May 5.—Oliver S. Green, with Walter Bros., U. S. Stock Yards, Chicago, reports the receipts for Monday, May 5th: 18,000 cattle; 40,000 hogs; 25,000 sheep.

Although the run of cattle was only moderate and close to 12,000 less than one week ago today, the supply was all the trade demanded and bulk sold only steady with last week's close. Only a few choice heavy were the exception. Prime 1532 pounds reached $9.10. Some 12 or 15 car loads, mostly Nebraska feeds, averaging 1550 to 1570, at 9c, and a liberal number at $8.75 to $8.90. Good to choice 1250 to 1400, $8.35 to $8.65. A fairly good number medium and plain 1200 to 1300 pounds $7.90 to $8.15; with fair short feds, $7.65 to $7.85, and plain killers, $7.50 and better. Butcher stuff five to 10c higher. Canners steady. Bulls and calves unchanged. Feeders unchanged. Fat cows, $5.00 to $7.50. Heifers, $5.75 to $8.25; with extra fancy Kansas white faces, $8.80. Bulls, $5.00 to $7.50. Calves common heavy to good vealers, $5.25 to $9.00, with prime to fancy vealers $9.25 to $9.75, and we made a sale at the outside figure. Inferior stockers to good feeders, $6.00 to $7.65. Good to choice selected, $7.75 to $8.00.

The general hog market was 5c lower. Extreme top, $8.55. Selected packing and shipping, $8.22 1/2 to $8.55. Light weights, $8.25 to $8.42 1/2. Medium and butchers, $8.30 to $8.37 1/2. Rough heavy packing, $7.75 to $8.00. Mixed packing, $8.20 to $8.30.

A more liberal run of sheep and lambs than expected. Sheep 10 to 15c off. Lambs 20 to 25c lower. Shorn native ewes, $4.00 to $6.50; shorn native yearlings, $7.00 to $7.65; shorn native wethers, $6.50 to $7.00; shorn western wethers, $5.00 to $7.00; shorn native lambs, $5.00 to $7.50; shorn western lambs, $5.50 to $7.75; spring lambs, $6.50 to $10.00.

Kansas City Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, May 5.—Buying of stock cattle and feeders last week lacked some of the enthusiasm trade in those classes enjoyed a few weeks ago, but the outgo was fairly liberal at 7,400 head; a year ago during the same week 6,000 head went out. Prices declined 20 to 25 cents, and ruled largely half a dollar below a short time ago, most sales running from $7.00 to $7.75, with the top at $7.85. A year ago the range was from $6.00 to $7.15. M srs. Gun Brington and Warren Talbott, prosperous farmers of Alexis, Ill., took about the best feeders that went out, 50 head, which they intend to feed on the grass for the summer market. Cattle receipts at all points are light today, 7,000 head here, and prices are 10 to 15c higher on killing steers, but stockers and feeders sold about steady. Yard dealers carried over a fair number from last week, and failed to catch the uplifted spirit in the trade on killing grades of cattle today. Hence there is a more favorable equation of values on country grades, in comparison with killing cattle than any day for some time. A fine rain yesterday all over the grazing area insures excellent grass and should stimulate inquiry for stock cattle and feeders somewhat, particularly in view of the relatively reasonableness of present values on them. Bulk of the native steers today ranged from $7.50 to $8.35; western steers $6.75 to $8.35; southern, $6.15 to $7.85; cows $5.50 to $7.50; bulls $6.00 to $7.25; veal calves, $8.00 to $9.50. J. A. Rickart, Market Correspondent.

The defense, it is understood, will hold to the theory that the shooting was an accident.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

FOREIGN INFLUENCE DEPRESSES MARKET

EMPHASIS ON UNFAVORABLE FEATURES LEADS TO BEARISH SENTIMENT.

Previous Improvement Was Ascribed to Easing of the Tension in European Political Situation and the Strength of the Foreign Markets.

(By Associated Press)
New York, May 6.—Under much the same conditions as prevailed yesterday when stocks moved strongly upward, the market fell back today.
The improvement of yesterday was ascribed primarily to easing of the tension in the European political situation and the strength of the foreign markets, but the cheerful tenor of the cable advices and further advances in securities abroad were ignored today.

More emphasis was laid on the unfavorable features of the present situation and sentiment became increasingly bearish.
Evidence of slowing down in business attracted more attention by reason of the closing of several New England textile mills. The Harriman stocks were especially heavy, owing to the necessity imposed by the supreme court of complying with the dissolution decree by July 1.
There was a general disposition on the part of traders to sell stocks, and although the supply seemed to originate chiefly in bear offerings no considered support was given, and little opposition was encountered in extending operations for the short account.

Among the important stocks there were numerous losses of 1 to 3 points. Southern Pacific dropped nearly four points to 94 1/2, the bottom figure for five years.
Union Pacific fell three points.
Engagement of $2,000,000 more gold for Paris was a factor in the increased heaviness of the market at the close. The renewed outflow of gold was regarded as distinctly unfavorable by some bankers who had expected that with restoration of peace in the Balkans in sight, this country might recover part of the gold shipped to Europe earlier in the year.

A Traveling Man Cured

P. B. Counterman, a traveling man of Joplin, Mo., writes: "Twelve years ago I was a great sufferer from stomach trouble. I tried nearly every medicine I could hear of, among them I used fifteen bottles of one popular preparation, but never found anything that did me any permanent good until I took Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which have effected a permanent cure. It has now been five years since I have had no more stomach trouble during that time. I have recommended Chamberlain's Tablets to a great many sufferers with stomach trouble, and traveling salesmen, and have met many of the boys on the road that are afflicted with disorders of the stomach as they have to put up with all kinds of half cooked grub at the different country hotels, which is one cause of this dreadful disease."

LETTERS FROM INDIA.

(Melville T. Kennedy.)

Calcutta, India, Sunday.
Had to wait until today's mail to get news of the section. Am surprised at such a Democratic landslide, although I expected to see Wilson get in. Roosevelt certainly got a big popular vote. Surprised to hear he had lost ground in California for I thought he was strong there with Johnson as running mate.
I am glad you enjoyed the travel letters. I took pains to write often so you could all share as much as possible in what we were seeing. I did not write carefully however, nor for press. People can read all the letters of travel they desire in fine literature. (The family have nevertheless taken the liberty of sharing them with the Jacksonville friends. H. T. K.)

We went to the English Congregational church last Sunday. An surprising at such a Democratic landslide, although I expected to see Wilson get in. Roosevelt certainly got a big popular vote. Surprised to hear he had lost ground in California for I thought he was strong there with Johnson as running mate.
I am glad you enjoyed the travel letters. I took pains to write often so you could all share as much as possible in what we were seeing. I did not write carefully however, nor for press. The work I am doing this week is in connection with Dr. Mott's coming. Some 300 questionnaires have been secured from students with answers to some 300 questions concerning their student life, work, influences, religious conditions etc. These have been turned over to me to digest and put in shape for Mr. Mott's perusal when he arrives. It is slow work and is taking most of this week to the detriment of my language study.

The chief event of this week has been the Athletic day at Y. M. C. A. All afternoon was given to sports for school girls, Indian and European. It was interesting indeed to see the Indian girls running races, drilling, and entering into such things with all the interest of a western school. It is quite new, this being the second year of it, all under the management of the Y. W. secretaries. They have a fine big building here with fine secretaries, most of them American.

Tomorrow there is an entertainment at the college branch at which four of us sing in male quartette. We use the same little books out of which Rob and Phil and I sang at the ranch last summer. Slack is an old Penn. "U. S. glee club leader (2nd tenor) and the physics man, Dr. Gray has a good high tenor. Dixon, a new secretary, a Canadian, sings second bass and I baritone.

Did I tell you Bobby is eating cereal, eggs and tapioca pudding, with bread and milk. We get good milk and will have it in the country too. With love all around.
Melville.

Calcutta, Wednesday.
Dear Mother and all:

Christmas a week from today! Think of it! It doesn't seem any more like Christmas than July 4th does and I can hardly realize that we have been gone three months from the United States.

Even when our little Christmas tree came to day it didn't seem especially Christmasy, but only like another palm on the verandah. The tree is tall and slim instead of short and stout like our traditional Christmas tree at home.

We are to have a good time with the baby and the tree and possibly the Carter twins will share in the fun also. They are 3½ year, auburn haired, and like peas in a pod. I think Bobby can appreciate his toys this Christmas. We haven't had many things for him yet. His chief joy now is to push something, a chair, his carriage, or whatnot, across and around the room. He doesn't make any effort to walk yet but is quite steady on his feet when holding to something. He will stand too, without anything supporting him and thinks it quite funny, but still hasn't the idea of walking. No more does he talk yet, although he has a most expressive and varied vocabulary of sounds.

This is a busy week in Calcutta missionary circles for Dr. Mott is here and important conferences are going on with many other things. The Mott party arrived last Saturday morning early and was met at the station by quite a group of secretaries and Indian students. The students put a garland of flowers around Dr. Mott's neck in characteristic style. They are strong for such things, flowery speeches, songs of welcome, etc.

The student meetings began Sunday at 6 p. m. with a great crowd overflowing the theatre, some 2000. Mr. Mott spoke in his impressive way and had a very attentive hearing. Before he began some students sang the song of welcome which I enclose. It gives a good idea of the flowery style which Indian students are apt to use. They run to words exceedingly, especially in Bengali. Each night at 6 o'clock the meetings have continued. Dr. Mott speaking three times and Eddy twice. Tonight is the close. The audiences have not been as large since the opening but have been quite good. After each meeting Mr. Eddy has met inquirers at the Y. M. C. A. A group of varying size has met there each evening, where after a few words from Eddy, they have been talked with by a group of us secretaries and missionaries. I have been there every night and have found it most instructive and interesting. A good many of the men who come desire to discuss theological questions and naturally one doesn't get far with them.

These meetings are to stir and rouse the, to challenge their thought about Christ; but to win them over some one must tie up to them personally and read with them for long period until they are convinced of the truth of Christianity. Even then many hesitate at baptism and definite decision for years. No wonder, when it means disinheri-tance, persecution and family trouble of all kinds.

Most of these young students are interested in the question of religion naturally so it isn't hard to approach them on it. Religion enters into everything in daily life here (in village life especially) that it is the supreme factor. College training usually brings readjustment, and change of belief to these men, so they are reaching out for larger truth. Many of them give up their orthodox Hinduism and become theistic but are not willing to become Christians. All educated Hindus believe in the Fatherhood of God or very largely so, but their contention is that their form of religion is their own, adapted to their racial needs, climate, etc. The more spiritually minded of them are drawn to Christ however, and all over India there are many men who are Christian in heart and thought, who still keep within the Hindu fold.

A man can believe anything or nothing and still be a Hindu if he observes the social regulations, caste, etc. Hinduism is supremely a great social organization.

The Franklin boys won in the first ball game of the season Sunday against the Jacksonville White Sox. It was no stomach dosing.

Several young ladies, members of the Loyal Daughters' class, gave a picnic breakfast Saturday morning in honor of Miss Ethel Bruner, who is soon to leave our village. The girls left town at 6 a. m., walked to the woods and cooked their breakfast in true picnic style. Needless to say they report a good time, excellent menu and faultless serving.

Dr. Glenn has purchased a new Ford touring car.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Berryman and daughter Ima and Miss Grace Hill motored to Jacksonville Friday to attend the high school meet.

Rev. Peter Kittle will preach the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, May 11, at the Christian church. Special music will be furnished by the M. E. and Christian church choirs.

LITERBERRY CITIZENS WILL HOLD HORSE SHOW IN JUNE

Decide to Resume Custom At Meeting Held Recently — Officers Elected.

At a meeting held recently the citizens of Literberry decided to resume the custom of holding annual horse shows and chose Thursday, June 5, as the date for the show this year.

Until two years ago these shows were held annually for some years but interest in the matter waned and for the past years they have been discontinued. It is planned to commence the show at 12 o'clock noon on the date set and the Ladies Aid society of the Literberry Christian church will hold their annual June supper that evening. Next Saturday night a meeting of the citizens will be held at which further plans for the event will be discussed.

A list of the officers and committees selected follow:
Chairman—J. B. Hitchens.
Treasurer—W. E. Murry.
Secretary—M. M. Crum.
Advertising—J. M. Daniels and E. A. Litter.
Soliciting—W. W. Young and Charles Young.

MAY DAY ANNOUNCEMENT AT THE WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Arrangements have been made whereby a number of seats will be available inside the main enclosure. These seats will be sold at twenty cents each. For the seats in what is known as the bleachers directly west of the events the price will be ten cents for each. Tickets will be on sale at five o'clock on the campus.

PLAN FOR CONCRETE WALK.

The authorities of South Jacksonville are planning to build a concrete walk on Greenwood avenue from South Main street to Diamond Grove cemetery. One half mile of the distance is within the limits of South Jacksonville and citizens are ready to put in that half of the walk if arrangements can be made for the other half. The improvement is one which would benefit a great many people as it is almost impossible for anyone to walk to the cemetery now except at such times as the roads are in good condition. It is likely that the county board will be asked to aid in the project and that subscriptions will be solicited from property owners along Greenwood avenue and from other persons who have reason to visit the cemetery.

We find we have too many accounts on our books—you will confer a great favor by paying your bill before May 10th.

HAS CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

J. F. Hargraves' Debaters at Colfax, Wash., Hold Record.
J. F. Hargraves who graduated from Illinois college with the class of 1911 and who is principal of the Colfax school of Colfax, Wash., is feeling quite jubilant over the fact that his school has put out a trio of debaters who have brought honors to his school. The debaters are Alton King, Paul Browder and Albert McCall. The question for debate was "Resolved that this state should continue the policy of constructing state roads and permanent highways with increased appropriations therefor." The first debate was won against Dayton, Colfax having the negative side. The second against Colfax, Colfax having the affirmative side. A month later the debate was against the Central High school of Spokane, Colfax having the negative side and winning. The last debate was against the Lewis and Clark high school of Spokane, Colfax again having the negative. "The Colfax Commoner" congratulates Principal Hargraves and also says that "the school may well be proud for winning of the championship of Eastern Washington in debate is no mean accomplishment. Several times has the school been represented in the finals, but this is the first time in the history of the school that a team has actually won the championship."

MOVING TOWARD CHINA.

America, It is Said, Is Being Pushed Westward by Ice Pressure.

It may be news to most people that North America has traveled from Europe across the Atlantic to its present position on the globe and that it is still moving toward China.

According to the calculations of Professor Wegener of Marburg, Germany, North America in the last twenty-six years has moved 295 feet away from Europe, and Greenland in eighty-four years has traveled the appreciable distance of 3,983 feet, also away from Europe. Professor Wegener believes that this movement westward is due to surface pressure exerted by ice. Not only does this pressure force the continent or island upon which it is exerted to sink; but, just as a lot of cakes of ice lying upon each other in a pan of water move the lower strata of the ice cakes sideways, so does surface pressure of ice force an island or even a continent to move sideways. Greenland, so much smaller than the North American continent and loaded down more heavily with ice because of its northern latitude, would move much more rapidly than our own continent, as it actually does, if Professor Wegener's computations be correct.

If Professor Wegener be right, then it is not merely possible, but probable, that America and Europe were at one time either one and the same continent or so close together that even the rude craft and meager seamanship of the early Hebrews and Phoenicians could carry men and women from one continent to the other.

The average breadth of the Atlantic ocean is about 3,000 miles. Each mile contains 5,280 feet. A simple arithmetical problem gives us the extraordinary result that, supposing North America to have traveled at the same speed in the past as in the present, it took our continent 1,396,000 years to accomplish the journey to its present site. The idea is a fantastic one. It suggests that in about 2,000,000 years, if the present speed be kept up, the Pacific coast of America may bump against Japan and China, thus obliterating the Pacific ocean or leaving it merely a chain of lakes.—New York World.

A HISTORIC BIBLE.

It is Bound in Red Leather and Used in the Supreme Court.

It is a tiny little book, only five and a half inches long and three and a half inches wide. It is bound in bright red morocco leather, with the word "Bible" printed in diminutive gold letters on the back. But one does not see that red morocco cover unless he removes the little black leather slip which protects it. Long, long ago the little red Bible began to show wear, and then the black leather slip was made to protect it—so long ago, in fact, that fifteen of those covers, made to protect the venerated little volume, were worn out in the service.

It is without doubt one of the oldest Bibles, if not the very oldest Bible, connected with the government and is certainly the most historical. It is the book upon which since 1800 every chief justice—with the single exception of Chief Justice Chase—and every member of the supreme court has taken the oath of allegiance when accepting his appointment to our highest tribunal. More than that, every attorney who has practiced before the supreme court since that date, 1800, has pledged his allegiance over the little volume—all, with one exception also, and that exception was Daniel Webster.

It is told even yet of the supreme court of that day that Mr. Webster's fame as an orator had so preceded him that on the occasion when he came to argue his first case before the court the clerk, Mr. Caldwell, in his eagerness to hear the great speaker, forgot to administer the oath.

Unmasked.

"Did you ever stop to think what little things betray one's station in life?" said a woman as she watched the crowd come and go in a restaurant.

Two stylishly gowned young women who had just come in had removed their gloves. When they entered everybody took notice. When they took off their gloves they revealed cheap rings on their fingers. Had they worn no jewels there would still have been a doubt as to their position. As it was, their knowledge as to the latest cut in gowns did not make up for their deficiency of taste in the matter of jewels.—New York Sun.

Ears of Animals.

The ears of the tigers, foxes, wolves, cats and other beasts of prey bend forward, while the ears of animals of flight, such as hares, rabbits, deer, etc., bend backward. This is because the ears of beasts of prey are designed for the purpose of collecting sounds in the direction taken by the animal in pursuit of its prey. The ears of an animal of flight, by turning backward, enable it to hear the sounds made by a pursuer.

Particular.

"Why don't you want to go to Dr. Goodly's church, dear?" said Mr. Hicks. "Because I don't care to associate with that class of people," replied Mrs. Hicks. "The last time I went he told them they were all poor, miserable sinners."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Busy All the Time.

"What's the old man doing now?" "Well, when he ain't votin' around he's applyin' for office, an' when that's no chance of gittin' the office he devotes his time to tellin' the government how it ought to run itself!"—Atlanta Constitution.

CLOSES SUCCESSFUL TERM.

School At Strawn's Grove Dismisses With All Day Picnic.

Miss Elizabeth Connolly closed a very successful term of school at Strawn's Grove Friday. The parents and children came during the morning bringing well filled baskets and at noon a bountiful and enjoyable picnic dinner was served to all. In the afternoon the children and their teacher gave a very interesting program showing proficiency and ability along that line which could not be acquired in a few days practice. At the conclusion of the program refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served to those present.

Miss Connolly has been engaged to teach her third term there and that in itself speaks well for her ability as a teacher.

was rejected by a vote of 72 to 52. The debate dragged along slowly and when the house adjourned at 11 o'clock tonight only the first five paragraphs of the income tax section of the bill had been finally passed.

Debate Sundry Civil Bill.

Debate in the senate on the paragraph in the sundry civil bill exempting labor and farmers organizations from prosecutions under the Sherman act with funds carried in that bill lasted for nearly two hours today. When the outlook for a vote seemed hopeless Chairman Martin of the appropriations committee asked that the measure be laid over.

Senators Hollis, Works, Walsh, Gorman, Lodge, Smith (of South Carolina) and Hughes spoke on the debated paragraph.

Senator Gallinger, read what he declared was an extract from a speech delivered on the Boston common by William D. Haywood, suggesting the extermination of capital. The senator expressed the hope that some time there would be a "senate brave enough" to provide ways and means to have men of Haywood's character taken care of by the legal arm of the government.

BURGLARS STILL AT LARGE

Bloodhounds Fail to Trail Thieves Who Took Money from Homes of C. S. Black and Otis Taylor.

The bloodhounds from the Strumpfer Kennels were returned to Springfield Tuesday afternoon after an unsuccessful pursuit of the burglars who had the night before entered the homes of C. S. Black and Otis Taylor north of the city. The burglars took $10 in cash as well as an unendorsed fifty dollar check from the Black home and made away with four $10 bills belonging to an employee of Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Black noticed the loss on arising at 5 o'clock and notified A. C. Reid, president of the Anti-theft association who sent at once for bloodhounds. These were taken from the Wabash 10:20 train and given the scent in the bedroom of the Black home where the money was missed. They followed the trail to the residence of Mr. Taylor and after several detours traced it back to the Black homestead where they lost it. There is no clue yet to the whereabouts of the burglars.

CHARLES FOSTER

IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Youth Was Thrown From Horse and is Still in Semi-Conscious State.

Charles Foster the ten year old son of Orlando Foster of northeast of Jacksonville who was thrown from a horse Saturday and rendered unconscious is pronounced by his attending physician, Dr. J. M. Wolfe as not in a dangerous condition although since the accident he has been able to recognize the members of his family only at rare intervals. No bones were broken and it is thought that he will soon be in possession of his faculties.

The horse young Foster was riding is usually gently but took fright on account of another horse nearby which was stampeded by the approach of a man on a bicycle. His horse began to turn and rear throwing him to the ground, on his back and head and rendering him unconscious. He was carried into the residence of James McDonald which was more convenient than his father's house a short distance away. As it was thought better to run no risk, he has not yet been removed from the McDonald home.

SHOT THROUGH FOOT.

Eddie Walton, the 15 year old son of Mrs. James Miller, 519 Goltzra avenue is suffering from an accidental gun-shot wound in the foot while hunting on the Mauvalster creek Monday afternoon. The wound was produced by a 22 rifle which young Walton discharged while resting the muzzle on his right foot. He had entered just above the instep and lodged within the foot. Dr. T. O. Hardesty, who attended the case, says the patient is doing as well as could be expected.

The boy was hunting in the woods with some companions and at the time of the accident was near a spot on the creek where his half-brother, Charles Bridgewater, was fishing. The Bridgewater boy carried Walton to a house a quarter of a mile away and arranged for medical attendance.

CONGREGATIONAL

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The congregational Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the Congregational church held a meeting in the parlors of the church at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon. After a business session, paper was read by Mrs. J. I. Barrows on "Glimpses of Beirut." This production was highly interesting and was illustrated with a number of views of Syria and Beirut. Mrs. Ed Spink made a report of the missionary features of a meeting of the Springfield association held recently at Pana. Refreshments were served between the business portion of the meeting and the literary part. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. J. C. Fairbank and Mrs. R. O. Post.
